The Intertribal Agriculture Council would like to encourage all Tribal leaders to register and attend the USDA Barriers Consultation series to ensure that Tribal perspectives are represented and addressed at this year's events. Each session in the series will include a virtual tribal-only caucus, a consultation, and a listening session. Tribal officials or their proxies are the only participants eligible to advance requests during the consultations, however, the listening sessions provide a broad opportunity for input from Indian Country stakeholders. The virtual caucus, consultation, and listening sessions will all use the same link for registration. Click on the links above next to each day to register.

If you are a Tribal leader, and are unable to attend a consultation and listening session listed above, please submit a PROXY LETTER to assign an authorized representative to act on your behalf.
